management roles*

Pathway to a Business and Management Qualification

Emerging Managers Program

A structured program delivered by industry experts through a blended learning approach including learning with likeminded peers, in an environment targeted at developing the key skills required by businesses.

Who will benefit most

This qualification is best suited to candidates seeking to build and use business and management knowledge to learn about leadership, effective communication, workplace culture and team building. This program is directed at people who are looking to take the next step after a few years of experience with tools or techniques and wish to get people management skills in any industry.

How is the program delivered

The Program will be delivered as a face to face learning workshop over 4 weeks.

Each session is followed by self-directed learning including readings, negotiated workplace activities and work related projects, simulations and or scenarios to embed your learning.

Assessments for each learning cluster, covering both Knowledge and Practical components are completed and submitted to demonstrate competence.

This program is part of the NSW Government's Skilling for Recovery initiative for any NSW residents over 18yrs looking to work or seeking employment in management roles in any industry or government department.
